Consumer Technology Association Standards Program TC124 US TAG Agreement

US TAG to IEC TC124 Wearable Electronic Devices and Technologies

Thank you for your interest in membership in the US Technical Advisory Group (TAG) for IEC TC124, Wearable Electronics Devices and Technologies. The U.S. TAG provides the management for U.S. participation in the IEC TC124. It initiates New Proposals for nationally accepted Standards and Technical Reports and approves proposals and committee drafts submitted by Standards Developing Organizations or Consortia for consideration by IEC TC124 as International Standards. The U.S. TAG also determines U.S. positions on IEC standards, technical reports, committee drafts, questionnaires, TC124 meeting agenda items (and allows delegate flexibility on them), and meeting reports. It assists with resolving comments on draft IEC standards. The U.S. TAG provides U.S. representation to IEC TC124 meetings, designates heads and members of delegations, and ensures proper U.S. participation. The U.S. TAG identifies and establishes close liaison relationship with other U.S. TAGs in related areas. The TAG recommends the acceptance of Secretariats for IEC Technical Committees to the United States National Committee (USNC), and it makes recommendations to the USNC on IEC TC124 meetings in the U.S. The U.S. TAG also recommends candidates for leadership and participation in IEC TC124 Technical Areas, working groups, project teams, and maintenance teams to the USNC.

SCOPE. The US TAG prepares international publications in the field of wearable electronic devices and technologies which include patchable materials and devices, implantable materials and devices, edible materials and devices, and electronic textile materials and devices. The scope of the U.S. TAG to the IEC TC124 is consistent with that of the international body, covering the field of wearable electronic devices and technologies which include patchable materials and devices, implantable materials and devices, edible materials and devices, and electronic textile materials and devices. As a TAG member, your active involvement in TAG affairs is expected and participation will be monitored per the TC124 US TAG Procedures and the U.S. National Committee.

ELIGIBILITY. Membership in the US TAG is open to all US national interested parties who indicate that they are directly and/or materially affected by the activity of the TAG, after being informed concerning TAG working procedures and scope of activities. A national interested party is any individual located in the US, representing an organization, company, government agency or themselves, including US branch offices of foreign companies.

VOTING RIGHTS. New TAG members are eligible to vote when they first join the TAG. To maintain voting eligibility, a TAG member must not be absent from three (3) consecutive TAG meetings and must return 50% of the ballots over a given six (6) month period. A TAG member who has lost voting privileges can re-gain them by attending a TAG meeting and by returning 50% of the ballots over a given six (6) month period. If a teleconference follows the procedures for meetings, it is considered to be a meeting for the purposes of voting eligibility. Ad Hoc meetings are not considered for the purposes of voting eligibility. Liaison participants are not eligible for voting rights.

TERM. Participation requires an annual fee. The term of the contract will be one (1) year from payment of the annual fee.

PARTICIPATION ANNUAL FEE. There shall be no undue financial barriers to participation. CTA members may participant in the US TAG to TC124 at no additional cost. All travel expenses are the responsibility of the participants or their sponsors. Liaison participants are not required to pay membership dues.
